POEM

The World In Birkenhead Park

Be remembering of those who have walked her mantled paths,
Irvine and Mallory who climbed those lofty peaks,
Rocks amongst we played as Khyber boys and girls -
Kids charging Balaclava Field in fun.
Eisteddfod 1917? 'Indeed to goodness so it was.'
Nuthatch, blackbird, mallard and moorhen,
Hear their song along with bat on ball or bowl on jack.
Eight acres of lake for fish to laze on summer day,
Also Boat House, Swiss Bridge and the hidden den.
Down in our world - the world in Birkenhead Park.

Paxton, Jackson, Hornblower and Kemp come to name,
As well as those unsung that gave such worthy fame.
Remembering all including 'Griff' who so cared,
Keep true for 'That which is good should be preserved.'

'Joseph Morgan, 2010'

HYMN

O Lord my God, when I in awesome wonder
Consider all the works Thy hand hath made,
I see the stars, I hear the mighty thunder,
Thy power throughout the universe displayed;

Then sings my soul, my Saviour God, to Thee,
How great Thou art, how great Thou art!
Then sings my soul, my Saviour God, to Thee,
How great Thou art, how great Thou art!

When through the woods and forest glades I wander,
And hear the birds sing sweetly in the trees;
When I look down from lofty mountain grandeur,
And hear the brook, and feel the gentle breeze:
Then sings my soul...

And when I think that God, His Son not sparing,
Sent Him to die - I scarce can take it in:
That on the cross, my burden gladly bearing,
He bled and died to take away my sin;
Then sings my soul...

When Christ shall come, with shout of acclamation,
And take me home - what joy shall fill my heart!
Then shall I bow in humble adoration,
And there proclaim, my God, how great Thou art!
Then sings my soul...

Stuart K. Hine (1899-1989)
